

BRAND GUIDE 01

Nahui Brand Guide

The path to what's next — a warm, rounded identity for the operating system of vibrant commerce in Latin America.

Design notes — assumptions made below

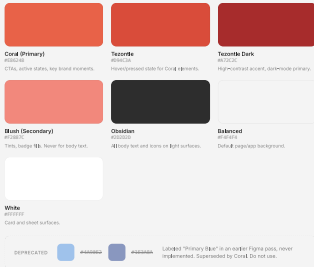

Intercom-like mid-toggle + "Primary Blue 44A0C2" switch that matches no coral value and appears nowhere in the logo or shipped mockups. Treated as a deprecated behavior from an earlier direction — dropped from the palette, shown above through below for the record.

When nahuiLandinging and brand-guides not designed on exact hue values Secondary tone, an added "Tazcorde Dark" (nahuiLandinging) is treated as the newer working file and used as source of truth.

Neither source defines a LR font or weights. Success/warning colors, both needed for the components in the mockups. Fredoka was chosen for display type — it shares the logotype's rounded terminals — paired with Inter for dense UI text. Success/warning are new, added to stay out of conflict way.

Color Palette

One coral hue carries brand recognition and to end, neutrals do the heavy lifting for surfaces and text.

Status colors (new)

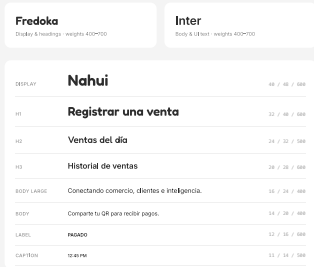

Reserved for system feedback — never decorative.

- Use Coral for at most one primary action per screen.
- Bush and Balanced are interchangeable for backgrounds — never stack both on one surface.
- Text on Coral, Tazcorde or Tazcorde Dark is Always White.
- Text on Bush, Balanced or White is Always Obsidian.

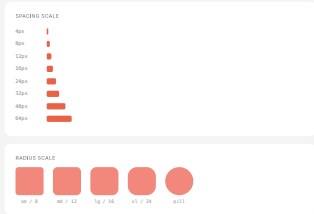

Typography

Fredoka for display moments — it echoes the logotype's soft, rounded terminals. Inter for everything functional: labels, forms, dense UI.

Spacing & Radius

4px base grid. Rounded geometry is core to the identity — soft curves everywhere, never sharp corners.

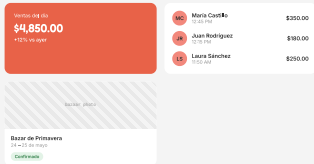

Buttons

18-shaded, minimum 40px tall for primary actions. Hover deepens toward Tazcorde, press deepens further to Tazcorde Dark.

Cards

16px radius on all surfaces, 16px internal padding as default.

Form Inputs

Badges & Status Togs

Status tags use semantic colors, never brand coral. Loyalty dots stay in Coral — they're a brand moment, not a system status.

Bottom Navigation

Fixed-tab bar, active tab always Coral. Click a tab.
